The screenshot shows the Warlingham School library website interface. At the top, the school name 'Warlingham School (CR6 9YB)' is displayed. A search bar contains the text 'the dog runner'. Below the search bar, there are navigation links: Home, Profile, Account, Reading List, Links, Search, Manage Library, and Circulate. The user is logged in as Administrator. The search results are displayed in a table with columns for Library, Authors, and Reviews. The results are sorted by Title in Ascending order. Two results are shown for 'Dog Runner, The' by Bren Macdibble. The first result includes a book cover and a brief description: 'That ugly red fungus killed all the wheat for flour, killed all the oat, and sugar cane for sugar and golden syrup, along with all the grass for cows and butter. Killed just about every ingredient that me and Dad used to use when we made Anzac bickies. I don't think I'll ever see another Anzac bicki...'. A 'Show More...' button is visible below the results. The footer contains copyright information for Capita Reading Cloud and other providers.

You can search using author name, title, genre, ISBN using full or partial criteria. Your search results are displayed with book covers (not always available) and include brief details about the resources found from your search.

From this screen you can click on the title of the resource you may be interested in to obtain more details. If this book is the one you would like to take out, you just need to click on the reserve button.

There are also 12,000+ web links that you can select. These will take you to a range of extremely useful websites that include information relevant to your search. These have proved very popular support for students when revising or researching homework.

Location: FICTION LRC

That ugly red fungus killed all the wheat for flour, killed all the oat, and sugar cane for sugar and golden syrup, along with all the grass for cows and butter. Killed just about every ingredient that me and Dad used to use when we made Anzac bikkies. I don't think I'll ever see another Anzac bikkie in my whole life. 'Ella and her brother Emery are alone in a city that's starving to death. If they are going to survive, they must get away, upcountry, to find Emery's mum. But how can two kids travel such big distances across a dry, barren and dangerous landscape? Well, when you've got a few big doggos, the answer is you go mushing. When Emery is injured, Elle finds herself suddenly responsible for safely navigating the wheeled dog-sled through rough terrain, and even rougher encounters with desperate people. As with 'How to Bee', Bren MacDibble has set 'The Dog Runner' in an all-too-possible dystopian future Australia where climate change has taken hold.

Her compelling adventure underlines the depth of ancient knowledge and the human ingenuity which will give tomorrow's generations hope of averting ultimate global disaster.
